To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in recommendation for Wired Home Theater Systems. I was first introduced to Craig Goldberg of Wired through our builder. Craig and his team were outstanding throughout the whole process. They were exceptionally helpful in assisting us in a plan for what we wanted to do. There was multiple times where their influence saved us money without sacrificing quality or function. The entire installation went without any problems. After we moved in, they were extraordinarily helpful in helping us customize the system.

Since installation Craig has always been very good at inquiring from time to time about how our system is working. Any issues have all been minor, and Craig and his crew have been quick to address the problem.

I have been completely satisfied with Craig and Wired Home Theater Systems. They have always been highly professional, able to solve problems, and available to provide service. I cannot recommend them any higher. You will be happy with their service. Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,
