

To Whom It May Concern:

We had the great pleasure to work with Craig Goldberg and his Team from Wired Home Theatre Systems. I have to say that it was truly an exceptional experience. After interviewing us on our desires and interests, they carefully detailed and mapped out our needs during the construction of our new home. We were introduced to their products with viewing and listening experiences. We were advised and counseled by professionals who have a wealth of experience. And it appears they also love what they do!

Service after the sale is where Wired excels. They are quick to answer and solve any issue we have. They are immediately available to us. They follow up after any service to be sure we are completely satisfied.

We are extremely happy with services and products they have provided to us. I am very happy to recommend Wired Home Theatre Systems to anyone with need.

Sincerely,

Rick Cavender
