To Whom It May Concern,

I have worked with Craig Goldberg through the years on many of my highly detailed and often challenging residential projects. My clients and I have lofty expectations and seek excellence; Craig has always delivered.

In addition, my wife and I sought Craig's guidance when we were working on our personal residence. He listened to our desires, provided recommendations regarding equipment needs and set us up for daily enjoyment and entertaining.

From design to install to the final walk-through Craig does a tremendous job. When needed he is a phone call away and always responsive.

I highly recommend Craig and his company Wired!

Sincerely,

Tobin Smith
